Oil extraction and refining set with interface and software

EQ880C

Function

Intended for the study of applications of fluid mechanics, extraction by pumping fluid from a lower reservoir to an upper reservoir, transfer of fluid by gravity effect, comparative system of refining through pressure, separating impurities from a sample by heating and distillation processes.

Knowledge areas

Chemistry

Level

Graduation